DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-20 are cancelled. Claims 21-38 are presented for examination.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 5/3/2004, some of NPL documents are not considered, because copies of NPL documents are not submitted.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because improper language.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be a summary of the invention, not a recitation of a claim. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The invention concerns," "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 30-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 14 fails to fall within a statutory category of invention. Applicant's specification fails to provide any definition for a "program product." The term is given its broadest reasonable interpretation of "computer product" which is a software computer program (since it comprises software code). Thus, claims 30-38 directly to the program product itself, not a process occurring as a result of executing the program, a machine programmed to operate in accordance with the program nor a manufacture structurally and functionally interconnected with the program in a manner which enables the program product to act as a computer component and realize its functionality. Therefore, claims 30-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 for failing to fall within a statutory category.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Antur et al (us 6,243,815) (hereinafter Antur) in view of Wallent et al (us 6,366,912) (hereinafter Wallent).

As regarding claim 21, Antur discloses accessing via internet, a web page generated by a web-server associated a switch offering virtual private network functions (see Antur col.5, lines 42-80; col.7, lines 36-40, firewall supports VPN functions allow/not allow to access a particular website on the Internet).

Antur does not specifically disclose a graphical user interface configured to display at least one link.

Wallent teaches a graphical user interface configured to display at least one link (see col.7, lines 60-67 to col.8, lines 1-8, also see figure 6, interface display links).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include an interface with links of Wallent to the invention of Antur for the purpose of providing the network operator to configure the network security devices with ease.

As regarding claim 22, Antur-Wallent discloses the link comprises an HTTP (Hyper Text Transfer Protocol) link (see Wallent, figure 6, HTTP links).

As regarding claim 23, Antur-Wallent discloses a link to a web-page comprising information describing users of the virtual private network functions provided by the switch (see Antur col.4, lines 31-46, firewall offering security functions).

As regarding claim 24, Antur-Wallent discloses a link to a web page comprising information describing packet filters provided by the switch (see Antur col.4, lines 31-33).

As regarding claim 25, Antur-Wallent discloses a link to a web-page comprising information describing access hours of the switch (see Antur col.4, lines 31-46).

As regarding claim 26, Antur-Wallent discloses transmitting an HTTP request when a link is selected by a user (see Wallent figure 6); and accessing a web-page associated with the link in response to the HTTP request, the web-page comprising configuration information related to switch (see col.7, lines 60-67 to col.8, lines 1-8, also see figure 6). The same motivation was utilized in claim 21 applied equally well to claim 26.

As regarding claim 27, Antur-Wallent discloses modifying the configuration information of the switch via the accessed web-page (see Antur col.9, lines 45-53, change the configuration of the firewall).

As regarding claim 28, Antur-Wallent discloses transmitting an HTTP request when a link is selected by a user (see Wallent col.7, lines 60-67 to col.8, lines 1-8, also see figure 6). The same motivation was utilized in claim 21 applied equally well to claim 28.

As regarding claims 29-38, the limitations of claims 29-38 are similar to rejected claims 21-28, and therefore rejected for the same rationale. Antur further discloses a list of switches offering virtual private network functins (see Antur figure 6c, list of firewalls which support VPN functions such as packet filtering, security).
